

Severe Pains in Side and Back.

Could Not Walk a Block Owing to the Excruciating Pains Which Were Caused by the Kidneys, and Now She Is Completely Cured By

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

The World's Best Remedy for Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood

Mrs. L. Swanson, of New York City, writes as follows: "After receiving your free sample bottle of Warner's Safe Cure I bought several bottles, and am very thankful for the results. It has cured me completely and removed all my troubles. My ailment started with a severe pain in the side and back, and when I would walk only a block the pain was so great that I was obliged to sit down and rest. No person can imagine what pain I suffered. I advise any person who has trouble with his kidneys to use Warner's Safe Cure. I thank you again for your great remedy, which I know has saved my life." (Signed) Mrs. L. SWANSON, 309 East Ninety-first St., New York City.

Diseased kidneys cause more sickness, suffering and serious complications than any other disease. Thousands of people have kidney troubles and do not know it.

IF IN DOUBT MAKE THIS TEST:

Put some morning urine in a vessel let it stand 24 hours. If there is a reddish sediment in the bottom of the glass, or if the urine is cloudy or milky, or if you see particles or germs floating about in it, your kidneys are diseased and you should get a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure at once.

Warner's Safe Cure is made from the fresh juices of plants and medicinal roots, gathered at the proper season in the various quarters of the globe. Men skilled in botany and chemistry compound it. It is pleasant to the taste and agreeable to the most sensitive stomach. It is put up in 50c and $1.00 sizes and sold by all druggists.

Constipation and Biliousness

When the bowels do not move freely it shows that the liver is inactive, and the bile, instead of being eliminated by the intestines, is taken up by the blood. In consequence the internal organs are deranged and you have a bilious attack. After frequent attacks the skin becomes sallow and rough. You are troubled with headache, coated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach, loss of appetite, pains in the side, and you feel out of sorts and should take Warner's Safe Pills, purely vegetable, sugar coated, absolutely free from injurious substances, a perfect laxative. They cure Biliousness, Torpid Liver and Constipation. They do not gripe or leave any bad after effects. 25 cents a box.

SAMPLE BOTTLE AND BOX OF PILLS FREE.

To convince every sufferer from diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood that WARNER'S SAFE CURE will absolutely cure them, a sample bottle and also a sample box of Warner's Safe Pills will be sent FREE OF CHARGE, postpaid, to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this offer in the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

4,154,986 HAVE LEFT IRELAND IN 59 YEARS

20,230 Emigrated in 1909; 190,322, in 1852—Smallest Number, 23,295, Was in 1908.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) London, April 16.—A report on Irish emigration during the year 1909, issued as a government white paper, shows that the total number of emigrants from Ireland during the year was 20,230. This figure shows an increase of 5,278 over the number of persons who emigrated in the preceding year, and represents a rate of 6.7 per thousand of the population of Ireland. The collection of Irish emigration returns, dating from May, 1852, shows that the total number of emigrants—natives of Ireland—who left Irish ports between that date and the end of December last, amounts in the aggregate to 4,154,986. The largest number of emigrants for any year of the period, was 190,322 in the year 1852, this number representing a rate of 20.9 per thousand of the population, and the smallest number was 23,295 in 1908.

MASTER OF SENATE WILL QUIT OFFICE

Nelson W. Aldrich to Retire at End of Present Term.

ILL HEALTH GIVEN AS CAUSE

Tariff Fight and Work on Monetary Reform Have Been Too Great Burden.

Washington, April 16.—Information has been received here that Senator Nelson Wilmath Aldrich, of Rhode Island, has not only decided definitely to adhere to his previously announced determination to retire from the Senate at the expiration of his present term, on March 4 next, but in preparation for that event will shortly retire from all his committee except, possibly, that on finance, in order to devote the remainder of his time in the Senate to the work of the Monetary Commission, of which he is the head.

Consideration of his health is assigned as the reason for this determination on the part of Mr. Aldrich. He has not been enjoying his usual good health this winter, and it is understood that his physician has at last advised him that unless he gives up his senatorial labors by next spring at the latest he "will have a very disagreeable old age."

Senator Aldrich is at his Rhode Island home just now, and so nothing authoritative from him can be obtained here on the matter. He is not expected back in Washington until next week.

It is known that the Senator has been feeling the strain of his congressional work for some time. In fact, he was feeling it before the special session of last summer, at which the tariff law was enacted. It was about election time, in 1908, when the first announcement came from Providence of his intention to retire from the Senate next March. Even then it was said as a reason for this decision on his part that he was growing tired of the great burden his position in the senate had laid upon him. As he had put it to some of his friends, he was tired of being a "pack-horse."

This is a fair description of the position Senator Aldrich has occupied for the last few years. His domination of the Senate has been so absolute and unquestioned that he has been held responsible for all sorts of legislation, whether he was personally interested in it or not.

The tariff session gave him a tremendous amount of work. It was, of course, his special field, and he was under consideration. It fell naturally to him to control almost absolutely the final character of the tariff bill, which, although it bears the name of Chairman Payne, is really the work of Senator Aldrich, not only as far as rates of duties are concerned, but more especially in the maximum and minimum features of the administrative provisions.

The long and hard fight in the Senate over the tariff law was under the direct supervision of Senator Aldrich. He made the combinations of Senators which enabled him to put the bill through and defeat the efforts of the insurgent Republicans. He labored incessantly, day and night. There were innumerable conferences, in which he took part, at his committee room, at the White House and elsewhere. He was always on duty, and the strain was tremendous. He was quite evident some time before the close of the special session that the Senator was being worn out by the work.

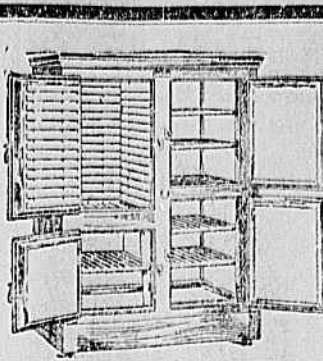

Underlines Speaking Campaign. Then followed the trip abroad with the Monetary Commission, which, while it was a change from the vexatious tariff business, was still far from being a rest. Since his return from Europe he has continued his work on the Monetary Commission, and has for the first time in his life made a speaking campaign in the effort to educate the people of the country up to clear comprehension of the problems with which the commission has to deal.

There was some talk during the fight over the tariff bill that Senator Aldrich meant to make that law the last great work of his congressional career. But his interest in the question of monetary reform was so keen, and the work he had put into it, that the opinion finally came that he would remain in the Senate long enough to see his ideas on the subject submitted to Congress for action. The fulfillment of his present project means that he must abandon that work before it is completed and leave the direction of the legislative efforts to some one else.

All this will be vastly interesting and exciting to the public, an insurance, not only those in the Senate and House, but all over the country, where Senator Aldrich has been linked with Speaker Cannon as one of the great issues. The very night of the overthrow of Speaker Cannon and his removal from the House Committee on Rules, the insurgents set up the cry of "on to Aldrich." Throughout the insurgent country Senator Aldrich is held to be as much of a stumbling block in the way of real progress of the country as ever the Speaker was, although there is by no means the personal bitterness toward him that is felt toward Mr. Cannon.

Prospective Retirement Discussed. The news that Senator Aldrich has definitely decided to retire from the Senate next March aroused great interest among those of his associates with whom the information was discussed this evening. Two years ago an authoritative statement was published from Providence to the effect that Senator Aldrich had made up his mind not to stand for re-election, but since that time the impression had become widespread that in order to carry out his ambition to revise the country's monetary system he had changed his plans and would retain his seat for at least enough of another term to allow of the disposal by Congress of his monetary plans.

So assured had the majority of Mr. Aldrich's associates become that he would retain his leadership of the Senate for another six years that talk of the possible consequences of his retirement and mention of his possible successor has so far been considered the merest gossip.

You could dry your wash in a McCray Refrigerator if you had one that was large enough, and it wasn't so much more valuable as a place to keep foods fresh. Clothes would dry in the McCray Refrigerator if you could get them in and wanted to. It is "dry as a bone" always; clean, wholesome and sanitary.

The McCray Construction does it.

he has been absent from the city. On most of these trips it was explained that he was resting somewhere in retirement, and it is characteristic of the man that his whereabouts in most instances were not generally known.

Vague Reports of Illness.

Over a month ago there was a vague report here that Mr. Aldrich's health was seriously undermined, but at that time no confirmation of the report was obtainable, and his colleagues seemed to proceed on the assurance that his guiding hand would be over them indefinitely. As it is, it is likely that Mr. Aldrich, for the remainder of this session, will hold his place on the committee, and if he makes the suggested changes before actually retiring in March, he will probably not make any announcement to that effect before the end of the present session. If he does not wait for the beginning of the short session in December.

The one really puzzling phase of the information concerning his plans now available is that it is commonly understood here that the monetary question will go over until a special session will be called in the spring of 1911, and that, of course, would be after Mr. Aldrich's retirement. It is known that there is almost no hope of disposing of the financial reform bill in the short session, and it is not even believed that the campaign of education, which Mr. Aldrich and the monetary commission under him is vigorously pushing for the Central Bank of issue, will have been completed by the expiration of the life of this Congress, next March.

It is certain that many Democrats are irrevocably opposed to anything like a central bank, and in the Senate an attempt to talk the bill to death, if entered into by only a few members, is certain of success with the education, which Congress comes inevitably on March 4.

Little idea of the position held by Mr. Aldrich can be had even from the list of the important committees of which he is a member. He is, of course, primarily chairman of the Finance Committee, and that chairman's ship is popularly considered the sign manual of his leadership, but, as a matter of fact, the senior committee is the Committee on Appropriations, presided over by Senator Hale, of Maine. In addition, Mr. Aldrich is a member of the big committee on Interstate Commerce, of which Mr. Elkins is chairman. His other committees are those on public expenditures and on rules.

REFLECTIONS ON HIS NOSE

It Was a Red One Before Poslam Completely Cleared the Skin.

Because of the numerous reflections on his red nose many a man possessed of the same affliction has been ridiculed himself of it, and has done so quickly through the use of a little poslam, the new skin remedy, nature's descolorer, which heals and hides skin imperfections. Although primarily a remedy for eczema—stopping the itching in its application and rapidly restoring the health of the skin—poslam shows immediate and surprising results when used for less serious skin afflictions, such as pimples, rash, blotches, inflammations, etc. Used after shaving it will soothe and tone up the skin as the coldest preparation could possibly do.

According to the uses for which it is employed, poslam may be purchased in the 50-cent, $1.00, $2.00, $3.00 and all drug stores. A free sample which will demonstrate its marvelous work will be sent upon request to any of the following addresses: The Emergency Laboratories, 52 West 25th street, New York City.

ACTION OF QUEBEC IS CAUSING WORRY

Washington Is Perturbed Over Threatened Pulp Wood Order.

SEEKING AN AGREEMENT

Officials Confident That Negotiations Will Be Begun for General Commercial Treaty.

Washington, D. C., April 16.—The Canadian pulp wood situation continues to be a matter of absorbing interest with State Department officials and the government tariff experts.

Since the announcement by Premier Gouin last Tuesday that an order in council would very soon be issued prohibiting the exportation of pulp wood from the province of Quebec, nothing of an official character in way of confirmation has reached this government. It is assumed, therefore, that the order has not yet been issued. From unofficial sources it has been learned that the government of Quebec had decided that pulp wood, cut prior to May 1 next, would not be included within the prohibition, but this has not been verified officially.

After Ontario Order.

Although it has frequently been stated in press reports that the prohibition against the exportation of pulp wood would specifically apply to the United States, officials here are not inclined to take that view. If Quebec, should, as has been announced, issue an order of prohibition it probably would take the form of the order issued some time ago by the Province of Ontario.

In 1897 Ontario passed an act to the effect that all licenses to cut timber on crown lands should contain, and be subject to, the provision that all pine cut into logs should be manufactured into sawed lumber in Canada. In 1909 the provision was extended so as to require that licenses to cut soft woods suitable for pulp wood must stipulate that it must be manufactured in Canada into pulp or paper.

The State Department earnestly continues its efforts to reach an amicable understanding with Canada looking to closed commercial relations between the two countries, and there is reason to believe that special attention is being given at this moment to the subject of pulp wood and pulp. Although the officials decline to discuss the subject, it is undoubtedly true that communications upon it are passing between the State Department and Consul-General Foster, who took part in the tariff negotiations with the Canadian officials. The nature of these communications has not been disclosed.

Treaty in Prospect.

Basing their opinion upon the utterances of President Taft and Minister Fielding, at the conference held in Washington some weeks ago, at which an agreement was reached by which Canada was to receive the minimum rate of this country's tariff act, government officials here are very confident that soon after the adjournment of the Canadian Parliament, which is looked for in about two weeks, negotiations will be opened for a treaty between the United States, under which reciprocal advantages can be secured to both countries.

Such a treaty would undoubtedly cover a long list of subjects, one of the most important of which, from the American point of view, would be pulp wood. Intimations have been made from time to time that Canada would be willing to permit the exportation of the States of pulp wood in consideration of the material reduction in the American tariff on print paper and while no rate has been fixed upon as satisfactory by the Canadian officials, it is generally understood that the recommendation of $2 per ton, made by Representative Mann at the last session of Congress, would be satisfactory to the Canadians. It is believed that negotiations which may be opened either in Washington or Quebec some time within the next few weeks may proceed along these lines.

BEDFORD CITY BONDS

SOLD TO CHICAGO FIRM

Issue of $100,000 to Be Used in Installing Hydro-Electric Plant by the Municipality.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bedford City, Va., April 16.—An announcement is made this afternoon that the $100,000 of bonds, recently voted by the town, have been placed, and work will begin promptly on the hydro-electric plant to be installed by the municipality. W. R. Abbot has just returned from Chicago, where he sold the bonds in a very short time, and closed the contract for the sale. The bonds will bear 5 1/2 per cent. interest, but an election must be held to ratify the sale at this interest rate, as the first election placed the interest rate at 5 per cent. There will be no difficulty of raising the bonds in the election, as all citizens realize that the town has been fortunate to place the bonds in view of the increased interest, in view of the great demand for money.

The first of the year the town bought the dam at Snowden, on the James River, and it is to develop this power that the bonds have been placed. The town owns 4,500 acres of mountain land, and water rights for several miles along the river. In addition to the dam, it is paid for the property of the town. Definite plans will be drawn by competent engineers, as soon as possible, and at least 1,000-horsepower development. As the demand increases, more power can be developed, and an additional dam can be erected if necessary. This is the greatest improvement in the history of Bedford since the coming of the Norfolk and Western Railway, and the citizens feel very sanguine over the future growth of the place.

IN HONOR OF SENIORS.

Junior Class at Fork Union Gives Enjoyable Reception.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Fork Union, Va., April 16.—One of the most enjoyable social events of the season in Fork Union was the reception given on the night of April 11 by the junior class of the academy in honor of the seniors. The reception was held at Carey Hall, the home of Dr. Wm. F. Hatcher, and the reception hall, parlor and dining room were attractively decorated with wild flowers, potted plants and pennants. The receiving line consisted of Lieutenant Justice, president of the junior class; Captain Tucker, president of the senior class; Miss Susan Spence, Miss Eva Sneed, Miss Lottie Sneed, Miss Emily Smith, Captain Petty and Lieutenants Broadus, Payne, Fitts, Goddin, Harris. The guests numbered over 100. Miss Clara Gaines assisted the juniors in entertaining, and Miss Broadus presided over the punch bowl.

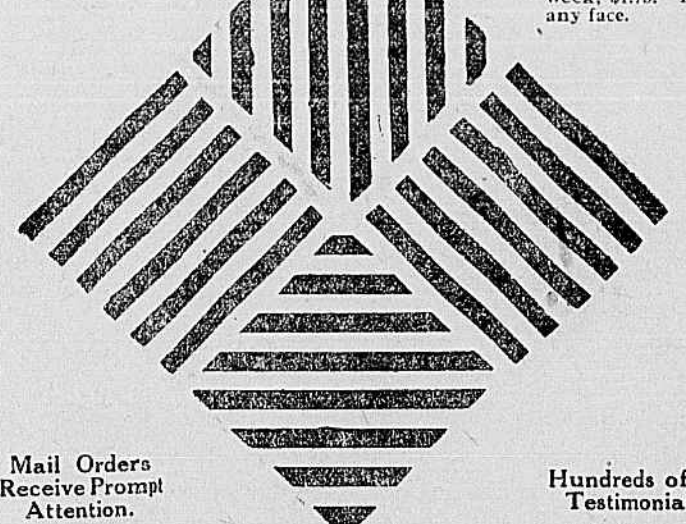

Cadet Hagie made the address of welcome on the part of the juniors and it was responded to by Cadet Broadus, representing the seniors. The toast, "F. U. M. A.," was responded to by Cadet Bryan. Captain Tucker responded to the toast, "The Class of 1911," while the chairs of the "Columbia" were set forth by Cadet George.

TEST YOUR OWN EYES

If you have been disappointed, don't despair. Come and see us.

The new Finger Piece Mounting—this week; usually sold $5. Our price this week, $1.75. Fit any face.

Follow These Directions Carefully
Cut this advertisement out, pin it on the wall, in a good light, on a level with the eye, then step back ten feet from the wall, hold a card in front of one eye, or close it, and with the other look at the four squares. To the normal eye the lines in all four squares will appear alike in blackness. IF ANY ONE OR TWO OF THE SQUARES APPEAR BLACKER THAN THE REST, you have astigmatism, a defect of the eye responsible for over 60 per cent. of all headaches, and by some leading physiologists and ophthalmologists believed to be the cause of chronic indigestion and many nervous affections.

IF YOU ARE ALREADY WEARING GLASSES, and they are correct, they will make the lines in all the squares look alike in blackness. If not, your glasses are doing more harm than good, and should be changed at once.

A P E O R F D Z

At the same distance this line of letters should be read clearly with either eye, or both eyes. If not, YOUR VISION IS BAD—YOU NEED CORRECT GLASSES. Glasses are a greater necessity every day because of the increased tax that modern civilization places upon our eyes. Small newspaper type, music lessons, long school lessons, fine machine work, close application at clerical work days at a time, to say nothing of moving picture shows, reading in street cars, etc.

If you are missing the ONLY EYES YOU WILL EVER HAVE, you had better see us at once before they become worse. People under 35 years of age may be practically cured of further eye trouble. Beyond that age they may be always helped by glasses.
